

Volume 1, Issue 3

CC Link

Connecting North Carolina's
Community College Leaders

Seats are filling fast for the 2018 NCACCT Leadership Seminar! Held in beautiful downtown Asheville, our seminar will feature expanded training opportunities, including a new Thursday morning session, multiple breakout sessions in the afternoon, and new options for trustees needing their New or Reappointed Trustee Training. Click here for more information.

ACC Introduces Middle School Students to Medicine

For the second consecutive summer, Alamance Community College is hosting more than 40 Alamance County minority male 6th-8th graders for the 2018 Medical Bridge Summer

Camp – a three-week intensive immersion into math, science and writing programs that lays the groundwork for success in medical and STEM careers, and to address a growing national and statewide problem—the gross under-representation of minority men in medical fields. Read more

ECC Students Win Gold at SkillsUSA

For the third year in a row, Edgecombe Community College students brought home gold from the SkillsUSA Conference. Held in Kentucky, the conference is a showcase of career and technical education students. Read more

40 years, 100 classes of National Park Service - Seasonal Law Enforcement Training

Southwestern Community College graduated its 100th class of the National Park Service Seasonal Law Enforcement Training Academy, where students learn the basics of policing with a specialty in park protection. The school, established in 1978, is one of only seven in the country to train law enforcement rangers to protect the natural resources and people visiting national parks. Read more

PCC Celebrates Local Non-Profits

Pamlico Community College recently hosted their second annual Non-Profit Leadership Breakfast to recognize local non-profit organizations. The event celebrated the important work being done by these groups, and provided attendees an opportunity to connect and learn from one another. Read more

Durham Tech, UNC Launch Anesthesia Technology Program

To serve North Carolina's growing population and to address the critical need for anesthesia technologists, Durham Technical Community College will launch a new

RCC Celebrates First Health and Wellness Coach Graduates

Randolph Community College recently celebrated the first graduates of their Health and Wellness Coach pilot program. The program aims to provide graduates anesthesia technology program in the fall in partnership with the University of North Carolina. Read more the tools to help support individuals to improve their their personal health. Read more

Across the Nation

- Big Tech's Hot New Talent Incubator - Community College (featuring Wake Tech) - The Wall Street Journal
- The Higher Education Nearly All Americans Love - The Atlantic
- Facebook Community College - Inside Higher Ed

CC Link is a bi-monthly newsletter from NCACCT that features news from our colleges, items of interest and updates from NCACCT. We welcome news items from Trustees, Presidents, Public Information Officers and others in the community college system who have updates that would be beneficial to share. Please send any articles or updates to Caroline Hipple to be included in future newsletters.

Copyright © 2018 NC Association of Community College Trustees, All rights reserved.
You are receiving this email because you are affiliated with a North Carolina community college.

Our mailing address is:

NC Association of Community College Trustees
120 Iowa Lane
Suite 104
Cary, NC 27511

Add us to your address book

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

